Wilderness First Responder Course (WFR)

Sponsored by Whitman College Outdoor Program & NOLS Wilderness Medicine

DATES: Jan 10-19, 2025

COST: Whitman: $825, Non-students/general public: $925

LOCATION: 345 Boyer Ave. Reid Campus Center Ballroom,
Whitman College, Walla Walla, WA 99362

Meals and Lodging

There will be no food service available on campus during the course. If you live on campus you may be able to stay in your residence hall room for the duration of the WFR course starting January 9th, and no sooner. If you do not live on campus you are responsible for your own lodging during the course. Residence Life would like you to know that during the WFR cooking in residence halls is discouraged. The Glover Alston Center (GAC) on Boyer Ave (1/2 block from downtown) will be open and available for preparing and eating meals. Students are highly encouraged to use this space for cooking if staying on campus.

Please be respectful of this space. Clean up after yourself and put away any dishes etc that you use. And as a reminder, NO parties, events, or guests while staying in residence halls. Residence life staff will be very limited at this time and you will need to be responsible for yourself. Please be aware that any misuse of the residence halls will reflect poorly on the Outdoor Program and will impact our ability to house students in residence halls during future WFR courses.

Non-Whitman students:

There is no lodging provided for the January WFR course.

Walla Walla has many hotels, bed and breakfast, and airbnb options. Some hotels that are close include the following, but there are many others:
